

Wake Leadership Academies offer middle school and high school students the opportunity to participate in a learning environment that is uniquely designed to challenge each young woman and man as individuals. Students are inspired to lead and to learn as they travel a path to academic and personal excellence.

At Wake Leadership Academies, students

- complete their middle and high school academic program in single gender – all boys or all girls – learning environments.
- experience a personalized education based on the academies' small size and the work of faculty and staff who are dedicated to student success.
- enroll in college classes that allow them to earn free transferrable college credit.
- learn effective communication skills for a variety of settings.
- develop their individual leadership skills in areas of personal and career interests.

Wake Leadership Academies Information Sessions

Rising 6th, 7th, and 9th Grade Families
January 5th, 2012 6:30 pm – 8:00 pm
Crossroads II
110 Corning Road, Cary, NC Room 1400

For more information, please visit the Wake Young Women's Academy at <http://girls.wakeacademy.org> or the Wake Young Men's Academy at <http://youngmen.wakeacademy.org>

Leadership and learning are indispensable to each other.

John F. Kennedy